Value Proposition: Remote Full-Stack JavaScript Web Informatics Systems Specialist

Hello,

To illustrate focus on quality, I shot brief subset of skills in this demo:

Though plugging a React Full-Stack JavaScript Professional on a remote contract might require little more effort than a sleight of hand for a professional recruiter, yet, lingering notions of mistrust and time zone can create psychological barriers.

However, having collaborated with teams in California and Europe simultaneously,[1] I am more than qualified for time zone entanglement and team knitting, especially, as my skills are discounted at 50% from average market rate of >$120K per annum in California.[2] Enjoying the elite tag in my country, I have received invitation from Google, Amazon, and Rakuten Tokyo etc. without even looking.

Also, my open-source contributions have been starred by professional programmers around the globe.[3][4]

Longing for long-term relationships and mutual economic windfalls, I will share 20% of annual contract value as liaising fees for upstream settlements.

Best Wishes,

Prateek Rastogi
